CANADIANS TO BE GUESTS OF KIWANIS CLUB

Because Kiwanis International conducts an annual "Canada-U. S. Goodwill Week," some Canadian residents or residents will be guests here Monday.

The local Kiwanis Club today announced plans to stop the first Canadian car headed south entering Gettysburg after 9 o'clock Monday morning. The Kiwanians hope that the car will have as its occupants a couple or family rather than a single person.

When borough police stop the auto, officials of the Kiwanis Club and Mayor William G. Weaver will invite the occupants to accept a free visitation to Gettysburg.

In the group greeting the car will be Roy Thomas, president of Kiwanis, and Charles W. Pentz, chairman of the public and business affairs committee of the club.

The Canadians will be offered, free of charge, a tour of the Battlefield with Park Superintendent James B. Myers, a visit to the Hall of Presidents, a visit to the National Civil War Wax Museum, a visit to the National Museum and Electric Map, lunch at the Hotel Gettysburg at 1 o'clock and lodging at the Howard Johnson Motor Lodge overnight.

Monday evening the Canadians will be guests at dinner of Kiwanis at the Lamp Post Tea Room at 6:30 o'clock. The speaker will be Apollon Trembow, county resident and former resident of the Ukraine, who will speak on "Living Today Under a Democracy and Under Communistic Rule."

This year marks the 39th anniversary of the Canada-U. S. Goodwill Week observance by more than 260,000 members of 5,000 Kiwanis Clubs in the U. S. and Canada. Kiwanis International originated the week in 1923 as a means of focusing attention on the more than a century of mutual understanding and peace which has existed between the two countries.

AT LEAST 800 YOUNGSTERS TO SEE CIRCUS

At least 800 Adams County youngsters and chaperons will attend the Shrine circus at Harrisburg, most of them on Monday, according to the final report of the Adams County Shrine Club's circus ticket committee.

The report, prepared by Sebastian R. Hafer, William A. Bigham, Joel Hill, A. LeRoy LeVan and Robert R. McCoy, shows that the 800 listed includes groups not securing tickets from the Shrine Club committee, but which members of the committee know plan to attend.

The committee itself received requests from 19 groups for tickets and issued 667 tickets to 11 groups in Gettysburg and eight located elsewhere in the county. Five hundred sixty-four tickets went to children and 103 to chaperons.

DONATED BY SHRINERS

Of the 19 groups, all but one asked tickets for the matinee Monday.

Thirty-eight members of the Shrine Club donated the tickets which were valued at $398.40. Under the plan the members of the Shrine Club purchased tickets sent them by the Zembo Shrine at Harrisburg and then donated the tickets to the committee for distribution to the children.

In addition $40.96 in cash was expended for the tax on the tickets and $1.56 postage. The cash was obtained from a $15.51 private cash contribution and $24.45 paid by adults of the groups receiving the tickets.

HERE AND THERE

Pennsylvania Commissioner of Traffic Safety O. D. Shipley today appealed to parents and youngsters to join in promoting greater bicycle safety during the warm days and months ahead. He called on motorists to be alert for increased bike traffic on the streets and highways.

"A 10-year-old Pennsylvania boy was killed only recently when he pedaled through an intersection into the side of a moving truck," Shipley said. "In a collision between a motor vehicle and a bicycle, the bike rider is always the biggest loser."

The commissioner pointed out that last year 23 bicyclists were killed in traffic accidents in Pennsylvania, and 1,433 more were injured. All but two of those killed were under 15 years old, with most of the injured in this same age group.

Shipley urged youngsters to heed basic, common-sense rules of bicycle safety. Some of these rules are:

1. Ride in a straight line. Don't suddenly change your course, or do zigzags or trick riding.
2. Always ride on the right side of the street. When there is more than one bicycle, proceed in single file on a busy street, and never more than two abreast at any time.
3. Never ride out of alleys.

NEW SERVICE STATION TO BE COLONIAL

The new Gulf Oil Corporation service station on Carlisle St. will be of colonial design to fit into "Campaign Gettysburg" theme.

Donald Becker, chairman of the Jaycee-Saturday Evening Post sponsored program designed to restore the historic image of the community, Friday received a letter from J. A. Wagner, Harrisburg area sales manager of Gulf Oil, stating that it is planning to construct a new service station on the site of the present Saylor gasoline station.

The letter said that contracts had been let to rebuild the station in accordance with the design of other stations operated by Gulf Oil, but that at the request of the "Campaign Gettysburg" committee the company rejected those bids and now is receiving bids for a colonial-type building to be erected at the site.

MAY BE COPIED

Becker, praising the Gulf Oil Co. for its change in plans, noted that now two down-town gasoline stations will be of a design in keeping with the historic past of the community. Atlantic also is placing a colonial design station on the former Adams House site on Chambersburg St.

Most People Around World Are In A Joyous Mood On Eve Of The Resurrection

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

Here and there and nearly everywhere today, there was a special mood.

It was in countless homes, where parents busily splashed eggs with garish colors, while the kids were out at play.

It was in the stores, where women young and old made last-minute forays for new spring bonnets.

It was on the roads, in bus and train terminals and in the air, where travelers headed on holiday outings.

It was in the narrow streets of old Jerusalem, in the great plazas and basilicas of Rome, and at shrines and sacred sites in many lands, where pilgrims gathered.

MANY CELEBRATIONS

It was at mountaintop amphitheaters, in woods and parks and stadiums where huge celebrations were being readied.

It was in the music and colloquies of the airwaves.

It was in the green of the new grass of 1962, and in the fresh flowers.

And chiefly, it was in the many-beating hearts, and in unnumbered places of worship around the earth, great and small, where Christians came together to wait and pray—and share the triumph of their Lord.

It was the eve of their great festival, of the assurance to them that real life and love has ultimate power over death and injustice, that God has extended hope and confidence outstripping any present trouble.

"BE OF GOOD CHEER"

"In the world you shall have tribulation, but be of good cheer, I have overcome the world."

It is the eve of the resurrection of Jesus, of Easter.

And its mingled bustle and bloom shed a special weekend luster in the affairs and cities of men.

The parents and son of an Adams County minister were killed and he, another son and a New Oxford girl were injured when two cars collided Friday night at 6:30 o'clock two miles south of Cross Keys on the Hanover-Carlisle pike.

State police at press time still had no explanation of the cause of the accident.

With those surviving the wreck patients at the Hanover Hospital, police were waiting to question one of the drivers, Miss Angela Staub, 19, New Oxford, operator of a southbound car which swerved off the highway to the west, struck guard rails, then swung back into the highway, crashing into a car being driven north by Rev. Calvin H. Cole, Gardners R. 2.

CRITICALLY HURT

Rev. Mr. Cole was critically injured, both his parents and one of his sons were killed, and another son was injured.

Dr. C. G. Crist, Adams County coroner, said Thomas Franklin Cole, 66, Reisterstown, Md., died in Berwick Twp. of a compound fracture of the skull and multiple breaks of both legs and that three-year-old Russell Thomas Cole died of a compound fracture of the skull and internal injuries. Both were first pronounced dead on their arrival at the Hanover Hospital.

Mrs. Elsie O. Cole, 68, mother of Rev. Mr. Cole, died at the Hanover Hospital about 10 minutes after her arrival there. Dr. Vincent P. Pisula, deputy York County coroner, said the death was caused by multiple head injuries.

DRIVERS BADLY HURT

Rev. Mr. Cole was admitted to the hospital in a critical condition with multiple face injuries, fractures of both jaws and internal injuries. Miss Staub also was admitted in a critical condition suffering from concussion, a broken right knee and a deep cut of the forehead. She was unconscious at that time.

Calvin H. Cole Jr., aged four, was listed by the hospital as in a satisfactory condition. He suffered from concussion and a broken lower right arm.

TO HOLD INQUEST

Dr. Crist said an inquest will be held into the cause of the deaths.

Damage to Rev. Mr. Cole's English-made auto was estimated at $1,000. Damage to the car driven by Miss Staub and owned by Mrs. Austin A. Staub, New Oxford R. 1, was estimated at $400. Both vehicles were demolished.

Rev. Mr. Cole's wife, Janet L. Cole, told state police her husband and two sons had gone to Reisterstown earlier Friday to bring the elder Mr. and Mrs. Cole to the Mt. Taber EUB parsonage for the Easter holiday. The elder Mr. Cole was a semiretired carpenter. Mrs. Cole and two other sons, Richard, 18 months, and Kevin, six-months, remained at home.

Rev. Mr. Cole, a student at the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological Seminary, is pastor of the Mt. Taber EUB Church which includes Cline's, Mt. Taber and Mt. Zion EUB Churches in the Gardners area.

Rev. Mr. Cole had been scheduled to give the meditation at the Easter dawn services to be held at 5:13 o'clock Sunday morning at Musselman's reservoir, near Gardners. Rev. Percy Brown, of the Uriah EUB Church, will substitute as the speaker at that service. Services are scheduled at all three of the Mt. Taber EUB charge churches Sunday. This morning Mrs. Cole contacted the conference superintendent to determine if substitutions can be secured to fill the pulpits for the services.

The bodies were removed to the Pittenurf Funeral Home, York Springs, then to the Tipton-Elaine Funeral Home, Hampstead, Md. Arrangements have not been completed for the funeral services.

Great Doors To Holy Sepulchre Church Beckon The Faithful To Holy Fete

By DAVID LANCASHIRE
JERUSALEM (AP) — Church bells rang joyously over Jerusalem's walls today as the Holy City prepared to celebrate the Easter resurrection of Christ.

The great doors of the Church of the Holy Sepulchre creaked open at dawn for the day-long rites in its hallowed vaults—to most Christians the exact place of Christ's crucifixion, burial and resurrection.

In the same crumbling church, the pageantry of Good Friday came to a close Friday night.

Robed and bearded priests lifted an effigy of Christ's body from Calvary—now a richly ornamented chapel lit by candles and clusters of hanging lanterns like warm golden icicles—and withdrew the nails from the cross.

The procession carried the body, wrapped in a sheet, down the winding stone staircase to the Stone of Unction, where beneath eight glowing lamps it was anointed and spiced.

A column of worshippers followed the body to its burial in the ornate marble tomb that still reveals some bare rock from Christ's original sepulchre. The services were intoned in seven languages.

Jerusalem is filled with more than 6,000 visitors from all corners of the globe. More pilgrims are entering with special permit through the no-man's land that splits Jerusalem between Israeli Jews and Jordanian Arabs. No Jews are allowed to cross the frontier, guarded by watchful troops on both sides.

Earlier Friday, hundreds of pilgrims retraced Christ's last footsteps from Pilate's court to Calvary. Bedouin tribesmen, half-veiled women and Moslems watched the Catholic procession respectfully, for Christ is revered by Moslems, as well as Christians.

Explains Jump In Jobless Pay Claims

W. C. Faust, office manager of the Carlisle office of the State Bureau of Employment Security, reported that 101 new and reopened and 642 continued claims were on file at the Carlisle office for the week ending April 12.

Faust attributed the recent slight increase in unemployment compensation claims to a number of unemployed workers from the C. H. Musselman Company, Biglerville, and the Knouse Foods Company, Peach Glen.

Employment prospects in the electronics field are a possibility in the near future, he added.

MRS. A. CLINE GETS DIVORCE

The Adams County court today granted Ada May (Tressler) Cline, Fairfield R. 1, a divorce from James Harry Cline, Waynesboro. The couple was married in 1923 and resided together for one month. Grounds for the divorce were desertion and cruel and barbarous treatment.

The court also handed down an opinion in a petition for a writ of habeas corpus made by Russell Sterling Wonder, Hanover R. 3, who had been sentenced earlier this year on charges of burglary and larceny, receiving stolen goods, malicious mischief and arson.

Noting that Wonder had alleged "fraud by one witness, partiality and prejudice, withholding of evidence by counsel, improper counsel appointed by court, one witness denied to testify, witness was denied the right to act as his own counsel, unfair verdict and sheriff destroyed writ for a speedy trial" without stating any circumstances therewith. "For these reasons there is nothing before the court upon which the court could act."

SEATTLE FAIR OPENS TODAY ON 74 ACRES

By PAUL WELLS
SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — Seattle and tens of thousands of visitors prepared to step into the 21st century today at the top of President Kennedy's finger, officially opening the first U.S. world's fair since 1940.

The countdown for the six-month exposition, billed as a space age fair and keyed to the theme of the "world of tomorrow" was to end at noon with a touch of a gold telegraph key by the vacationing President from Palm Beach, Fla.

A brief, telephoned message from Kennedy, preceding the signal, will be piped by loudspeaker throughout the 74-acre fairgrounds for the milling crowd, which will begin surging through the gates an hour earlier.

Before the President's accolade, federal, state and civic dignitaries will have paid their tribute.

EXPECT 100,000

Heading the government delegation was Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges. The state was represented by Gov. Albert D. Rosellini, the city by Mayor Gordon S. Clinton.

First-day attendance was predicted to be 100,000. Ten million visitors are expected before the fair's close Oct. 21. Advance ticket sales have topped 3 1/2 million, or half the number needed for the fair to break even financially.

The wares of 59 foreign nations, including more than 30 government exhibits, and 175 domestic exhibitors are spread through the compact grounds.

Eye-catchers are the soaring 600-foot space needle, the fair's symbol; the beautiful $10-million U.S. science pavilion designed by Detroit architect Minoru Yamasaki; the $4.2-million, high-speed monorail, whisking passengers over a 1.2-mile route from a downtown terminal; and the $4-million Washington State coliseum with its "world of tomorrow" theme.

SNOW FALLS IN SOME AREAS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Easter weekend began under clear skies today in most sections of the country.

Showers and thunderstorms threatened to mar the spring holiday in the central Plains and the Mississippi Valley, where a cloudy cover was building up. More rain was likely in the Pacific Northwest.

The weekend promises to be unseasonably warm in the nation's midsection, where strong southerly winds Friday pushed readings into the 70s and 80s as far north as South Dakota. North Platte, Neb., reported 77 early today, one degree less than the 78 at El Paso, Tex., warmest of the 48 adjacent states.

COOLER IN WEST

To the west, it was much cooler with readings in the mountain states, mostly in the 30s and 40s. The temperature dropped 40 degrees in 24 hours at Salt Lake City, which also measured a half inch of rain.

Light snow fell in northeastern Nevada, northern Utah and southern Idaho.

It also was cool in the East with readings in the 40s reported from Atlanta north to Boston. Freezing weather was limited to extreme northern lower Michigan and the northern Atlantic Coast states.

Temperatures held at 70 degrees or higher during the night over most of the central and southern Plains, along the California-Arizona border and in southern Florida.

UNION UPSETS SERVICE BAND

MEDIA, Pa. (AP) — An appearance of an Air Force band at a Delaware County Civil Air Patrol ball has been canceled following a protest to the Defense Department by a musicians union local.

Lt. Charles Holsopple, commander of CAP Medical Squadron 1004, said Friday he had been informed by telephone of the complaint, lodged by Chester Local 484, American Federation of Musicians.

A Pentagon spokesman later said the complaint was forwarded to Maguire Air Force Base, N.J., where the eight-man band is stationed.

Authorities at Maguire said the appearance was canceled after it was learned the National Guard Armory where the ball was to be held was not a federal installation.

PHONE THIEVES STRIKE AGAIN

Telephone booth burglars struck in the Adams-Franklin County area again early Friday morning and destroyed nine public telephones in the two counties, state police reported this morning.

The officers said the burglar or burglars apparently drove north on the Littlestown-Gettysburg Rd., breaking open the booth at the Two Mile Inn, eight miles south of here, then turned west on the Lincoln Highway, breaking the telephone in a booth at Fritz's Service Station, near McKnightstown, and at Mountaineer Inn, near Caledonia, then apparently continued on west to Chambersburg and south on Route 11, breaking six other telephones in public booths in Franklin County.

Police said no estimate could be given of the amount of coins secured by the burglars in breaking open the phone to remove the coin boxes. Telephone company officials will have to check records of the phones before that loss can be determined.

Police added that, in breaking open the phones in the booths, the burglars damaged them by jimmieing them open to such an extent that the nine will have to be replaced.

PENNSYLVANIA PREPARES FOR EASTER FETE

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Protestant and Catholic churches in Pennsylvania observe Holy Saturday today as Christians everywhere emerge from the solemnity of Good Friday and prepare for their most joyful holiday—Easter.

The weather—cloudy with showers in much of eastern Pennsylvania Friday—looked promising for Sunday. The forecast was for mild temperatures and clear skies in most areas.

For thousands of worshippers Easter Sunday will start with sunrise services, many outdoors.

One of the most colorful will be at Bethlehem where the Moravians follow a pattern of worship more than 200 years old.

OPENS AT DAWN

The ritual, centering around a service in Central Moravian Church, begins at daybreak with the Moravian Trombone Choir touring the city singing chorales. It climaxes with a processional of congregations to Moravian Cemetery for memorial rites.

Moravians in Lancaster County conduct similar services.

In Pittsburgh, the city's council of churches is sponsoring sunrise services at the civic auditorium. Some 10,000 worshippers are expected to attend. There will be a 160-voice choir and a brass ensemble.

In Philadelphia and most other major cities of Pennsylvania similar rites are planned.

Also in Philadelphia, several organizations planned an "Easter Peace Walk," part of a campaign for disarmament and a nuclear test ban. The walk, Saturday afternoon, was to start at Franklin Institute, continue to City Hall, and end at Independence Hall with a short rally.

POWERS' WIFE HOSPITALIZED

WASHINGTON (AP)—Barbara Powers, wife of U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers, has regained consciousness, but officials at Georgetown University Hospital said today they still didn't know what caused her illness.

Mrs. Powers was admitted to the hospital suffering from what police described as an overdose of sleeping tablets.

A hospital spokesman said she regained consciousness about 10 o'clock Friday night and was responding well. "Her general condition is satisfactory," the spokesman said. "As yet there has been no diagnosis. She is still being studied to determine the cause of her illness."

Powers, who spent 16 months in a Soviet prison after being convicted of spying on an aerial flight over Russia in May 1960, called an ambulance to the couple's suburban Alexandria, Va., apartment early Friday morning.

Mrs. Powers was taken to the Alexandria Hospital, where she was treated and then transferred to Georgetown University Hospital. Her condition at the time was described as very serious.

Dr. G. E. Schreiner, her attending physician, said the 27-year-old brunette was being treated for acute gastritis because "medication was available (but) we don't know if she took them."

NEW SERVICE

Becker said much interest has been shown by numerous out-of-town executives and gasoline officials in the new colonial type structures being built here and said comments indicate that the example may be followed elsewhere.

In addition, a number of Junior Chamber committees from other cities have visited here and as a result of examination of changes that have already been made locally as a result of "Campaign Gettysburg" are considering recommending similar programs to give their own towns an individual atmosphere.

U.S. MIGHT IS PAYING OFF IN SO, VIET NAM

By MALCOLM W. BROWNE

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—For five months the United States has been beefing up South Viet Nam's military muscles. The results are beginning to show.

Since last December, when Washington decided to back the little republic to the hilt in its struggle against Communist guerrillas, U.S. arms, advice and support have reached nearly every level at which the fight is being waged.

U.S. naval advisors accompany the armed junks protecting Viet Nam's coast. U.S. Air Force pilots are in the cockpits of Vietnamese fighters.

U.S. Army advisors are in jungles, forests and marshes, working with Vietnamese commanders down to the company level.

80 HELICOPTERS

More than 80 U.S. Army and Marine helicopters are carrying out almost daily troop-carrying missions, landing Vietnamese soldiers practically atop their targets.

Somewhere in the South China Sea, elements of the U.S. 7th Fleet are patrolling, ready to strike if outside Communist powers should ever decide on open intervention here.

About 6,000 Americans are believed to be in Viet Nam.

U.S. officials say this is not an American war but since December South Viet Nam has been able to seize the initiative largely because of American backing.

Though classified technically as military secret, certain general facts about disposition of the U.S. groups have been disclosed.

Army: U.S. Army personnel comprise the main group, probably numbering 3,000-4,000. More than half are stationed in Saigon, performing administrative and clerical duties, acting as teachers and advisors, helping maintain and repair equipment, manning radio networks and flying and servicing one company of troop-carrying helicopters.

Waynesboro Hires Planning Experts

The Waynesboro borough council took a major step Wednesday night towards civic planning and zoning by accepting the proposal of a Washington planning firm to give professional assistance in planning there.

The firm of Blair & Stein Associates, Washington, D.C., will plan a four-phase program for Waynesboro and its environs, to be completed in a two-year period. Total cost of the program is $24,900, of which the U. S. government pays two-thirds. The borough will pay $8,300 in three installments.

Later he was assigned to the office of the assistant chief, air staff training, Air Force headquarters in the Pentagon where his extensive field experience was brought to bear on the entire Air Force training program.

A 1947 graduate of the Air War College, General Montgomery became a member of the joint strategic plans and operations group for General Douglas MacArthur in Tokyo. The following year he joined the 51st Fighter Wing at Naha Air Force Base, Okinawa. The 51st Jet Fighter Wing pioneered in long over-water mass jet training flights in the Far East under General Montgomery's leadership.

A veteran of 23 years Air Force service, General Montgomery was twice awarded the Legion of Merit while serving with the Strategic Air Command.

Despite Pentagon duty he is still an active and qualified jet pilot. In his present assignment, General Montgomery is working under his old boss, General Curtis E. LeMay, chief of staff of the Air Force.

ARREST 5 IN CUBAN SCRAPE

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Five men kicked out of Cuba Friday after a week of questioning were arrested by the FBI upon their return on charges of stealing transportation for their trips.

The FBI said two of the men, Leonard Malcolm Oeth, 28, of Orlando and David Thomas Healy, 22, of Coral Gables, were charged with kidnapping pilot Woodruff Mead, 23, and forcing him to fly them in his plane to Cuba April 13.

The other three, William Thomas, 22, Richard Cobb, 30, and Clarence Lee Jones, 25, all of Key West, were charged with stealing the 58-foot shrimp trawler Teresa and Julia from Key West and sailing her to Cuba April 14.

WANTED ASYLUM

The FBI did not give a reason for the two trips to Cuba nor say whether they were related. Neither the trawler nor the plane was returned to the United States.

Mead, interviewed after returning on the same plane with the five, said Oeth and Healy told their Cuban captors they wanted political asylum.

Mead said Oeth and Healy, who identified themselves to him as James Anderson Eastham and Harold Moore, had asked for a demonstration flight over Miami Beach so they could photograph the hotels and beaches.

There were difficulties and opposition in some places. But that is part of the story. "Let not your heart be troubled... because I live ye shall live also."

MOSCOW SERVICES

Orthodox and Baptist churches in Moscow scheduled special services tonight and Sunday, as did churches elsewhere in Communist countries.

Rome, where 80-year-old Pope John XXIII led the observances, swarmed with an estimated 150,000 visitors. The city's 500 church bells were silent today, but rang out tonight at midnight masses commemorating the blessed event.

Other throngs — an estimated 6,000 pilgrims — crowded the walled city of Jerusalem, and threaded the candlelit passages of the Church of the Holy Sepulchre, the traditional site of Christ's burial and resurrection.

President Kennedy was in Palm Beach, Fla., with his family for the Eastern weekend.

Across the nation, churches scheduled late-night watch services, awaiting the Easter dawn. Thousands of persons flocked to open-air beauty spots for big interdenominational celebrations.

Sunrise services or pageants were scheduled at many places.

ers' institute during the period of the 1963 Shrine Circus so the children will have more opportunity to attend the circus. The youngsters normally are given a free day from school during teachers' institute.

The committee held, "The over 700 Adams County school children attending the circus is well over 10 per cent of the total elementary school population. This obvious interest indicates that a plan to allow free school time for circus attendance in 1963 is justified."

The committee urged that, if the dates for the teachers' institute could not be coordinated with the Shrine Circus date, county school officials favorably consider the ruling by the state Department of Public Instruction that Shrine Circus attendance may be classed as an educational field trip.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and
The Gettysburg Times

TEN YEARS AGO

Going To Germany: Mrs. Grover W. Ridler, West Broadway, will leave Wednesday for Ulm, Germany, to join her husband, Warrant Officer (JG) Grover W. Ridler, who has been stationed in Germany since November, 1951. Mrs. Ridler, the former Elizabeth S. Strausbaugh, served as a nurse in the Adams County public schools for seven years. She resigned as nurse in the Gettysburg joint, Fairfield joint and Franklin township schools when it became possible to reside in Germany with Mr. Ridler. She will be accompanied on the trip by their five-month old son, Garth Kevin.

Spectacular Blast: One of the most spectacular atomic bombs ever detonated jolted observers ten miles distant today and gave 1,500 troops an experience they will never forget. It probably was the largest bomb ever dropped on continental United States soil. The smoke billowed out the troops who were within four miles on ground zero. Despite brilliant sunshine the blast was visible 75 miles away in Las Vegas. The heat from the blast singed observers' faces at News Now. Most wished they were in fox holes like the troops.

To Leave For USSR: Mr. and Mrs. George F. Kennan, East Berlin, R.D., will leave this week for Moscow where Mr. Kennan will assume his new duties as ambassador to Russia. The couple's eldest daughter will remain in this country. Mrs. Kennan and the other children, the youngest of whom is two, will reside in Berlin, Germany, for a while until an expected fourth child arrives after which she and the children will join the ambassador in Moscow.

Smashing Victory For Eisenhower: General Eisenhower scored a smashing victory in the State, defeating all opponents by more than 530,000 votes. All 67 counties turned in a majority for the General. Adams County made it clear that their fellow countian is their choice for the President of the United States. The Republicans gave Eisenhower a total of 3,929 votes on the Democratic ticket where no names were printed on the ballot for President of the United States. "Ike's" name was written in 342 times. The runner-up was Senator Estes Keefe who received 316 write-in votes.

Seeking Funds For New Suits: Members of the Blue and Gray Band who have been working for the past several months to raise funds for the purchase of new uniforms today launched an appeal for additional contributions. "Since the main purposes of the band organization are to furnish a means for furthering music activities for the 'out of school' people, and to be of service to the community the members of the band feel their obligation to make an attractive appearance," George Olinger, treasurer, said.

Honorary Life Citizens: Dr. and Mrs. Henry W. A. Hanson, for 29 years residents of Gettysburg and active members of the community since the former assumed the presidency of Gettysburg College in 1923, became honorary life citizens of this historic community Wednesday night at a testimonial dinner at Hotel Gettysburg attended by more than 80 representatives of business and professional life of the community. The Hansons will leave Gettysburg to reside in Harrisburg when Dr. Hanson retires as head of the college in June. The dinner was arranged by the Gettysburg Chamber of Commerce and the Retail Merchants Association. Henry M. Scharf, toastmaster, said in presenting a Seth Thomas clock to the Hansons, "The spirit shown by the Hansons brought the town and college together where today they are as one. The college now is a flourishing Gettysburg industry worth about $2,000,000 a year to the community."

THE LIFE BEYOND

We have no idea what it is with in us that keeps telling us to climb higher, to do better, to be somebody in the world. Often we wonder what life is all about, why we should keep striving under a mysterious system of pressure, calumny, and misunderstanding.

We see brave and honorable folk high in esteem and achievement swept from their places by ignoble men and women, which makes us wonder what there is in this life that is worthwhile after all.

But to him who is blessed by the great God with a philosophy, no duress is too cruel, no failure too great, not to reveal the hidden purpose of the ages which is that a man's life is but a piece in the fine fabric of the Eternal Plan.

It is this realization that gives to the discouraged and lonely, the simple and the striving, his or her most urgent hope.

None lives to himself alone, or could if he wished.

We are all a part of a plan. That plan is the mystery of life itself. It is not ours to reason the whys, but ours to accept, to give, to lavish of our time, our strength, our ideas, our love, and our hope.

If we speculate too much we lose the precious thread itself. It's because we think of God as the embodiment of all that is true and right, that we pray to Him in secret and in silence when the pressure of men's deceit and betrayals flood our waking hours.

The life beyond is something like the death of the rose in summer after having given of its grace, but budding again in greater beauty when the ensuing June comes around.

JOSEPH OF ARIMATHEA

Joseph of Arimathea had lived out his long career

Growing by counseling wisely, wealthier, year by year.

He was known as a righteous rich man, gentle and kind and true, But history seldom lingers to tell us what such men do.

Joseph of Arimathea in the gloom of a Friday night

Visited Pontius Pilate — the envoy of Roman might.

"There was a man named Jesus nailed to a cross today,"

Said he, "and I ask permission to care for his lifeless clay."

"Little I know about him, but I've heard that his life was clean;

I am told that because of his teaching men hated this Nazarene.

Those who are called his apostles still fear what the mob may do,

So I ask your august permission to care for a fellow Jew."

And Pilate, who trusted Joseph and honored him, promptly said:

"I will give you a guard of soldiers. Go now and bury the dead."

Thus strangely is history fashioned — from one kindly deed there came

To the rich man of Arimathea eternal glory and fame.

STATE HOLDS UP PROJECTS DUE TO WAGES

HARRISBURG (AP)—Pennsylvania's controversial prevailing wage law has forced the State Highways Department to put off bidding indefinitely on six road and bridge projects.

The proposed construction is located in counties where prevailing wages have yet to be set, highway officials said Thursday in explaining the postponement.

The three-month-old act, a product of the 1961 legislature, calls for contractors to pay predetermined wage rates set by the State's Labor and Industry Department on all public works projects exceeding $2,000.

Under the act, specifications for the projects must take into account the prevailing wage schedule set for the regions in which the projects are located.

THREAT OF FLOODING

Among the projects withdrawn from bidding was one in McKean County calling for the relocation of a 7.37 mile stretch of Route 59 between Bradford and Warren in Crofton and Lafayette Twp.

The relocation is necessary because of the threat of future flooding along the present route from the proposed Kinzua Dam.

Other projects included: Clarion—Route 68 and 208 in Salem, Knox, Paint and Beaver Twp., southwest of Knox, 8.66 miles, resurface and widen.

Crawford—Legislative Route 30047, Vernon Twp. between Brown's Corner and Diehl Corner, bridges over Watson Run and Pine Run.

Crawford—L.R. 20113, Hayfield Twp. between Meadville and Little Creek, bridge over Cussewago Creek.

Elk—L.R. 24033 Benzinger Twp., two bridges over Sand Lick Creek and West Creek, improve grades alignment and railroad crossing near Rathbun.

Warren—L.R. 61034, Glade Twp., between Warren and North Warren, to correct grade and alignment, 2.08 miles.

NO DATE SET

No future date was set for receiving bids on the projects. Highway aides also refused to speculate whether the action would boost the costs of the proposed construction work.

The prevailing wage law has been surrounded by controversy ever since it went into effect earlier this year. Already a Chester County school authority has challenged the act, claiming it is pushing construction costs of a proposed new elementary school from some $300,000 to over the one million dollar mark.

The Labor and Industry Department, however, turned down the appeal, on grounds that the predetermined rates were in order.

Since then, several central Pennsylvania school districts have indicated a willingness to contest the law in court.

LOCAL HOUSING ACT

In another development, the State Justice Department ruled Thursday that the controversial act does not cover local housing and redevelopment authority projects.

In an opinion addressed to Labor and Industry Secretary A. Allen Sulcove, Atty. Gen. David Stahl said housing and redevelopment work is subject to the Federal Davis-Bacon Act.

The prevailing wage act excludes any projects which are subject to either the Davis-Bacon Act or the Federal Walsh-Healy Act, Stahl said.

Miss Barbara Patricia Sponser and J. Ferris Brown, New York City, were married this morning at St. Francis Xavier Church. A wedding breakfast was served at Hotel Gettysburg for about 50 guests immediately following the ceremony.

THE GOOD THIEF

"And he said unto Jesus, Lord, remember me when thou comest into thy kingdom."
—Luke XXIII:42

Two hardened criminals are paying the ultimate price for their careers of lawlessness—nailed to the cross.

Between them on a third cross hangs the Gentle Shepherd of men's lives, "numbered among the transgressors" because He came into the world to bear witness to the Truth.

Even during the throes of his own final agony, one of the thieves reflects the mockery and scorn of the crowd. Twisting his head toward Jesus, he echoes the derision of the soldiers:

"If thou be the Christ, save thyself and us."

But his companion, who had listened in astonishment as the Man on the cross between them had said, "Father forgive them; for they know not what they do," now felt a new response and love for the Nazarene flood his whole being. He found within himself an awakening which cleared his thoughts to a change of perspective.

And that change of perspective called into expression a discerning and elevated consciousness. Enlightenment thus developed the thoughts of this dying malefactor until the negative impression of his first reaction to Jesus was changed to a true understanding.

Forgetting his own agony, he turned upon his fellow thief.

"Dost thou not fear God?" he said, "seeing thou art in the same condemnation? And we justly: for we receive the due reward for our deeds: but this man hath done nothing amiss."

Perhaps in that terrible moment of suffering, mixed with pity for the innocent Man who suffered so great an injustice and the profound recognition of that Man's identity, the Good Thief sensed the coming Resurrection, for he cried:

"Lord, remember me when thou comest into thy kingdom."

And Jesus, who was to know, even in the darkest hour of man's rejection, man's trust and man's faith, answered:

"Verily, I say unto thee, today shalt thou be with me in paradise."

Words Fly Between Title Contenders

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—There is considerable personal bitterness, as well as a valuable crown and prestige, involved in the world lightweight title match between champion Joe Brown and challenger Carlos Ortiz tonight.

This became even more evident Friday when Ortiz, outspoken young New Yorker, threatened to protest to the Nevada State Athletic Commission over what he calls the champion's 30-second rounds.

"Brown usually stails around most of a round and then puts on a flurry in the final 30 seconds to catch the eye of the referee and the judges," Ortiz declared.

The 35-year-old champion from Houston, Tex., who has ruled the 135-pound division since August, 1956, hasn't bothered to respond to the accusation.

But Brown's handler, Bill Gore,

Gettysburg Schools Report

"Aim for Excellence" has been selected as the theme of the fifth annual Teaching Career Month, to be observed during April 1962 in Pennsylvania and throughout the United States.

The basic aim of Teaching Career Month is to call public attention to the necessity for getting and keeping the best possible teachers for our nation's schools and colleges. The six specific purposes of Teaching Career Month are:

1. To improve our nation's schools by providing increasing numbers of fine teachers;
2. To encourage larger numbers of qualified young people to consider teaching as a career;
3. To influence the most competent teachers to remain in the profession;
4. To inspire teachers to speak up for their profession and encourage others to consider teaching as a career;
5. To inform parents and the general public of the opportunities and rewards the teaching profession offers today's youth; and
6. To show that, for our nation's survival, teaching must be the pre-eminent profession in American life.

No universally acceptable answer has yet been proposed to the question "What makes a good teacher?" However, a task force of the "New Horizons Project of the National Commission on Teachers Education and Professional Standards," NEA, recently published sweeping recommendations for local, state, and national action toward the complete professionalization of teaching.

GROWTH IMPORTANT

"The task force urged that teacher preparation programs include (a) good general or liberal education, (b) intensive study of the subject to be taught, (c) acquaintance with the principles of human growth and development and with teaching methods and techniques, and (d) supervised practice teaching."

In-service growth is considered as important for a good teacher as preservice preparation. In-service growth includes participating in professional activities, keeping up to date through reading and discussing general and professional literature, pursuing advanced study and taking part in community affairs.

The professional teacher is an educated person . . .

possesses a body of specialized knowledge and skills . . .

has the unique ability to develop the greatest potential in each student . . .

is devoted to the youth of today and the future of tomorrow . . .

is able to make rational judgments and take appropriate action within the scope of his activities . . .

is responsible for the consequences of his judgments and actions . . .

places primary emphasis upon his service to society rather than upon his personal gain . . .

actively participates with his colleagues in developing and enforcing standards fundamental to continuous improvement of his

ASK CITIZENS TO HELP WITH FISH KILLING

HARRISBURG (AP)—The State Fish Commission called on Pennsylvania citizens Thursday to do their share in helping cope with the problem of fish-killing stream pollution.

The commission can track down the source of pollution only if new cases are reported immediately, Executive Director Albert M. Day said in a statement.

"The causes of fish kills may disappear within minutes, certainly within hours," he noted. "But, if the case is reported immediately, the source can be found, and the Sanitary Water Board can take action to prevent action to recover damages for any fish killed."

More than $65,000 in damages have been collected by the state over the past three years for fish killed by stream pollution, Day said.

239 CASES
A total of 239 cases were settled—184 voluntarily and 55 through litigation.

The largest payment was $5,500 from Abbotts Dairies on Aug. 31, 1960, for a fish kill on the Kishacoquillas Creek in Mifflin County.

The state also received $5,000 from the Bethlehem Steel Co. on Dec. 1, 1959, for a fish kill on the Susquehanna River in Dauphin County and another $5,000 from the Franklin Refining Co. for a kill on French Creek in Venango County.

Bethlehem also paid $6,521.50 last Feb. 8 to settle three cases involving pollution of the Lehigh River in Northampton County.

Still to be settled is the disastrous fish kill on the north branch of the Susquehanna last October. The state has blamed the Glen Alden Coal Corp. for polluting the stream with mine acid drainage which killed thousands of fish in the river.

The State Justice Department is asking $38,504 from the mining firm. Glen Alden denies any responsibility for the kill.

Man, Wife Die Within An Hour

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—An elderly Tampa couple, married for 52 years, died within minutes of each other.

Doctors said both died of natural causes. The man, Jacob Lott Lightsey, 82, had been ill for three weeks, doctors said. He died early Friday.

His wife, Bessie Anderson Lightsey, 71, discovered the death a short time later and telephoned relatives and the family physician.

At 2:15 a.m., less than 15 minutes after the doctor arrived, Mrs. Lightsey died.

NEW YORK'S EX-GREETER DIES FRIDAY

NEW YORK (AP)—Grover A. Whalen, who loved a parade and as official greeter during the 20s did as much as any man to warm the granite canyons of New York, is dead at 75.

Whalen succumbed to a heart attack Friday in his fashionable upper East Side apartment with his wife of 40 years by his side.

It was from the terrace of the apartment less than two months ago that the ailing Whalen sat in a wheelchair and watched the motorcade which was carrying astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. speed past on the East River Drive below.

Glenn was enroute to a ticker tape parade up Broadway—a Whalen innovation of almost four decades ago that has become a symbol of American recognition off heroism.

Wrapped in a blanket against the chill March wind, Whalen commented at the time: "I thrill over every parade. All the parades are wonderful."

More than 30 years ago, New York's colorful Mayor James J. Walker named Whalen the city's official greeter—a post he held until he retired in 1953 and an entire city department—Commerce and Public Events—replaced him.

Handsome and impeccably clad, he marshalled the city's welcomes for such notables as Gen. John J. Pershing, British Prime Minister David Lloyd George, the Prince of Wales, a host of kings and queens, sports figures and the famous Col. Charles A. Lindbergh.

He began his public career as a secretary to Mayor John F. Hylan in 1918 and in 1928 was drafted by Walker as police commissioner, a post in which he found time to personally crusade with an ax against the bolted doors of speakeasies and gambling dens.

In private life, Whalen was an executive of the John Wanamaker department store empire until 1934. Later, he became board chairman of Coty, Inc., an international perfume concern.

STENGEL SAYS METS TO JELL

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Casey Stengel breezed into town Friday night with an optimistic word about his New York Mets and flatter remarks about the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Stengel, whose Mets have dropped all seven of their games so far this season, told newsmen "one of these days the hitting and the pitching and the defense all will click, and we'll surprise some of you fellows."

As for the undefeated Pirates who are in first place with eight straight victories, Stengel commented:

"They're making that big play when they need it. Look at that fella at first base (Dick Stuart) and those fellows around second (Dick Groat and Bill Mazeroski). You get hitting and pitching with an infield like that and you gotta win."

ALL-AROUND PLAY
Stengel chose lanky right hander Bob Miller (0-0) to pitch today's opener of a three-game series with the Pirates. Another righty, Bob Friend, will carry a 2-0 mark to the mound for the Pirates.

Pittsburgh Manager Danny Murtaugh says "an accumulation of little things that go to make a good team" has gotten the Pirates off to their best start in history.

The players, he said, "have taking turns, you might say, in getting that big hit and driving in the runs when we need them."

"Just as important," he said, "the defense has been much better. They have been making the double play when they had to. The relief pitching has been very good."

SEES 1ST WIN IN 36 YEARS

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP)—Jimmy Steed finally has won the North and South Women's Amateur Golf Tournament.

The record books will note that Clifford Ann Creed of Alexandria, La., defeated Mrs. Helen Sigel Wilson of Gladwyn, Pa. 6 and 4 in the final Friday.

But Jimmy Steed will remember the tournament as the first in which he caddied for the winner. Jimmy has been totting bags at this winter resort for 36 years, and only once before did his player even reach the finals. That was in 1945 when Mrs. John Gessler of Philadelphia, aided by Steed, reached the finals, only to lose to Mrs. Estelle Lawson Page, 5 and 4.

Jimmy is no ordinary caddy. He is Sam Stead's favorite and always works for the Slammer when he is in the state.

Clifford Ann, a double Florida circuit winner this year, shot the 14 holes played over the 6,000-yard No. 2 course of The Country Club in even par. Mrs. Wilson shot 7-

RICH ROLLINS HELPS TWINS SNAP STREAK

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

There's no stopping rookie Rich Rollins, Minnesota's man-in-orbit with a sky-high .469 batting average.

The unheralded 24-year-old third baseman continued his torrid hitting Friday night, striking a two-run single in the second inning, then starting the winning rally with a leadoff single in the 10th that led to the Twins' 9-7 victory over the Los Angeles Angels.

Rollins came up to the Twins after only two seasons in organized baseball, hitting .341 at Winston, N.C., in 1960 and batting at a .270 clip for Charlotte during the 1961 campaign. In spring training, he pushed three candidates—including Harmon Killebrew—off the third base job, winning the post with his smooth swinging. And now he's the No. 1 hero for the Twins with another solid performance that helped snapped Minnesota's five-game losing streak.

HAS 4 HOMERS
Rollins is tied for the league batting lead with Chicago's Floyd Robinson, holds first place in homers with the White Sox' Jim Landis at four and is No. 2 in runs batted in with 12 while hitting safely in all nine games.

The loss kept the Angels from taking over first place in the AL from the White Sox, who lost 7-4 to Kansas City. In the only other game scheduled in either league, Baltimore edged Washington 3-4.

The Twins got off to a 6-0 lead, scoring five in the second on Rollins' single and a three-run homer by Killebrew. But they couldn't hold it as the Angels finally tied it in the seventh on a single by Steve Biko, Lee Thomas' double and a single by Bob Rodgers.

Rollins got the Twins going again in the 10th, opening with a single and taking second on an error. Bob Allison's double brought him around and Earl Battey drove in Allison with a single. Trade acquisition Dick Stigman (1-0) picked up the victory while Art Fowler (0-1) lost it.

WILHELM SAVES GAME
A home run by winning pitcher Jerry Walker (2-0) got the A's off winging in the third inning before Norm Siebern's three-run homer in the fifth chased White Sox starter Juan Pizarro (2-1). Walker led in the eighth with Danny McDevitt and Diego Segui finishing up. Segui balked a run home with the bases jammed in the ninth, then got pinch hitter Sherm Lollar to ground out and end it.

The Orioles scored the clinching runs in the eighth inning on singles by John Powell and Jim Gentile, an error and sacrifice flies by Jackie Brant and Earl Robinson. But Hoyt Wilhelm had to come on in the ninth to preserve the victory for reliever Dick Hall (1-1), getting out of a one-out, bases-loaded situation on Chuck Hinton's tap back to the mound and a strike out of Danny O'Connell. Marty Kutyna (0-1) was the loser.

LEAF'S EYEING TITLE SUNDAY

CHICAGO (AP)—The Toronto Maple Leafs, with a strong possibility that goalie John Bower will be back in the nets, hope to clinch the Stanley Cup championship in Chicago Stadium against the Black Hawks Sunday night.

In defeating New York, 4-2, in semifinal competition and grabbing a 3-2 edge over Chicago in the best-of-7 final series, the Leafs have yet to win away from home.

Despite the fact the Leafs have been shouting they don't care if they are called a bunch of "homers," they would like nothing better than to clinch the championship in the stadium before the boisterous Chicago crowd.

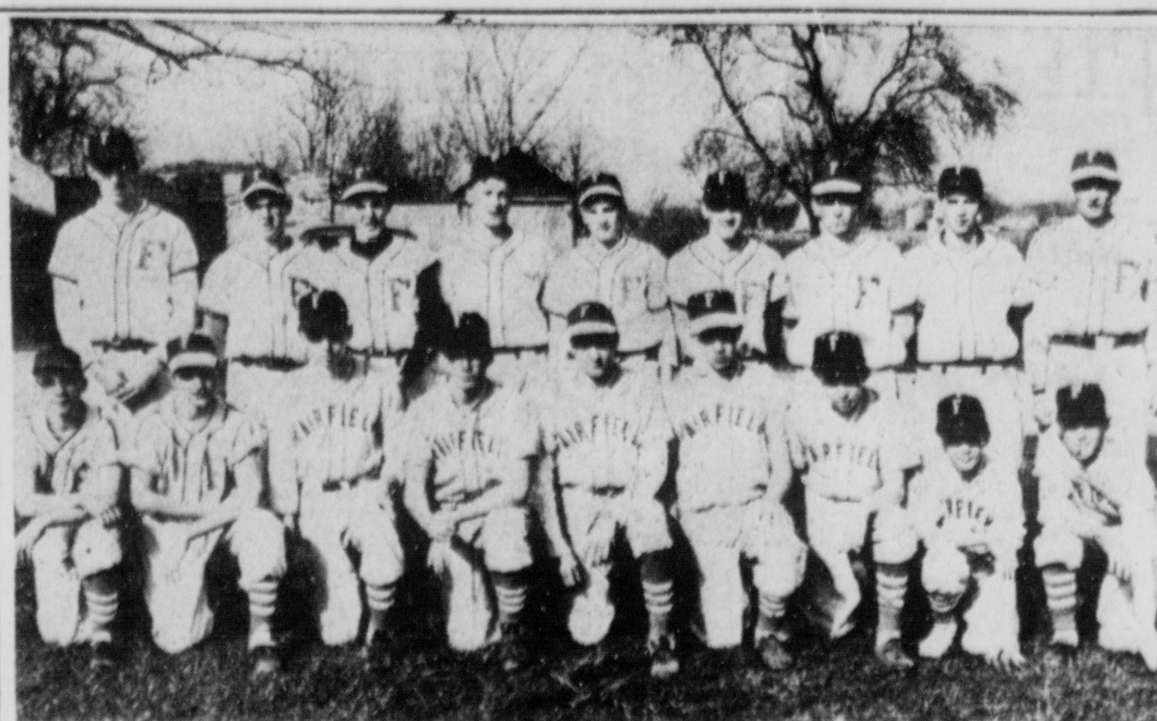

Bower, who missed Toronto's 8-4 triumph Thursday night, might be in the nets Sunday depending upon his condition. He suffered a groin injury in game No. 4 when he made a great stop of one of Bobby Hull's slap shots and then fell doing the splits.

Should Toronto fail to wrap it up, the seventh game will be played in Toronto Tuesday.

SENIOR LOOP'S 85 HOMERS IS A RECORD PACE

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—So sorry, honorable sir. Chinese home run not buried in Coliseum. Making big comeback in honorable ancient Polo Grounds.

The New York Mets can't win for losing but good old home run heaven is back in business. In six games (losing games, naturally) the Mets and their opposition each have hit 10 home runs at the PG.

If things keep up the way they are going, the National League may smash all the home run records the American League hung up last year when the M & M boys went on their rampage.

In 42 games played through Thursday, National League sluggers had hit a total of 85 homers, or better than two a game. In 34 games in the same time period, the American Leaguers had hit only 57 homers.

TWINS STADIUM GOODS
Roger Maris is trudging along in the rear at this stage with only one homer. The leaders with four each are Jim Landis of Chicago and Rich Rollins of Minnesota in the American and Willie Mays of San Francisco, Frank Thomas of New York and Eddie Mathews of Milwaukee in the National. Landis hit all of his on the road and Mays and Thomas have done their slugging at home.

The wind tunnel at Candelstick Park actually has produced as many homers as the Polo Grounds with 20. However eight games have been played there and only six in New York.

Minnesota's Metropolitan Stadium has been the easiest to reach in the American, yielding 14 homers in only five games. Kansas City and Detroit also have helped boost the average.

MUMMASBURG — Miss Louise Bowling, a student at Shippensburg State College, is spending the Easter vacation at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Bowling.

In an account of the surprise birthday party at Bender's Lutheran Church last Sunday, published Friday, it was incorrectly stated that the guests of honor are sisters. Delores Fidler, aged 13, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Fidler, and Sandra Fidler, aged two, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Fidler.

Indians' Goalie Seeks Cup Record

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP)—Goalie Marcel Paille can shoot at a Calder Cup playoff record tonight as his heavily-favored Springfield Indians seek to extend their lead over Buffalo.

Springfield, going after an unprecedented third straight American Hockey League playoff title, won the opener of the best-of-seven finals here Wednesday 4-0. The third game is slated at Buffalo Sunday.

Paille has posted two straight shutouts and has a scoreless string of 157 minutes, 8 seconds going into tonight's action. The playoff record is 173 minutes, 2 seconds set by Gil Mayer, then with Pittsburgh, in 1953.

Top AHL scorer Bill Sweeney got Springfield off to a fast start in the first game by notching two goals in the opening period.

The pressure is all on Buffalo where the Indians are roughest—on home ice Buffalo lost its opener, but bounced back to take the semifinal series from Hershey.

GIRL SWIMMER SETS MARK IN 500 FREESTYLE

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—America's fastest girl swimmer, 16-year-old Robyn Johnson of Arlington, Va., today could make a clean sweep of freestyle titles at the National AAU Women's Indoor Swimming Championships.

The Southern speedsters established one of the three new American short course records Friday as she tried a 500-yard race for the first time, and won in 5 minutes, 27.2 seconds.

That smashed the national record of the now retired Olympic star, Chris Von Saltza, at 5:28.2, and Chris was on hand to bestow the medal on her successor.

In Thursday's opening events, Robyn won at 100 yards in a meet record of 55.5 seconds, and a victory in the 250 today would make the sweep.

DEFEND TITLE
Even younger is the other double winner seeking a third title—14-year-old Donna de Varona of Lafayette, Calif. She successfully defended her 200-yard individual medley title and broke her own American mark with 2:18.9.

She had won the 200-yard backstroke over this Arden Hills Tennis and Swimming Club 25-yard pool and goes today in the 100 yard event.

Canadian Mary Stewart, a 16-year-old from Vancouver, takes an American record north after winning the 100-yard butterfly in 59.2 seconds. She tries now for a double in the 200 yard event.

Roby Whipple, of the Santa Clara, Calif., Swim Club, took the 100-yard breaststroke title Friday in 1:13.3, thwarting the bid of Andrea Hopkins to add that to her triumph in the 250 yard race.

Miss Hopkins placed second, Cleveland Athletic Club's 400-yard freestyle relay team triumphed with a time of 3:32.3.

Northern Virginia leads in team points with 29, while Santa Clara has 25, and Cleveland 23.

Bricklayers Sign New Agreements

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Employing Bricklayers Association of Delaware Valley has signed a new three year contract with two bricklayers locals based on a 45 cent wage package.

Andrew J. Cromwell, secretary of the association, announced the agreement Friday night. It becomes effective the first week in May, he said.

The contract, with Local 12 of Chester and Local 54 of Norris-town, provides a 10 cent an hour increase the first year, 20 the second and 15 the third.

The locals were given the option of setting up a pension plan with any part of the prescribed increases at any time during the three years, Cromwell said.

Present wage scales were not disclosed.

Tony Kubek Due Back With Yanks

NEW YORK (AP)—Yankee Manager Ralph Houk today was contemplating the pleasant problem of finding a spot for Tony Kubek in the world champions' lineup.

Kubek and Oriole shortstop Ron Hansen are the biggest names on the list of ballplayers called to duty last October with Army Reserve and National Guards units.

Although President Kennedy has said the Reservists would serve until August, the Pentagon's policy of discharging men with seasonal occupations 90 days before the end of their tour of duty may put the players back in baseball flannels by May 1.

When Kubek was called to active duty the Yankees brought in two prize rookies, Tom Tresh and Phil Linz, to battle for the shortstop job. Tresh started the season and has impressed all observers. Linz remains on the Bombers' roster.

The Orioles will have no such problem with Hansen. Ron spent most of the spring training period with the club while on leave from the Army. Once he has those discharge papers, Hansen will have the Oriole shortstop job all to himself.

PIRATES LEAD WITH 8 WINS

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates have made their best start ever in the National League with eight straight victories.

Their fans probably have their fingers crossed, hoping that the end of the season won't duplicate the dismal finish of the 1938 Pirates who set the previous off-the-mark record of seven in a row.

The 1938 Pirates seemed to have the pennant all wrapped up until they invaded Chicago for a three-game series with the second-place Cubs, Sept. 27-29. They lost all three games with Gabby Hartnett's famed homer in the gathering darkness winning the second game and dropping the Cubs to second.

LIKE OTHER TEAMS
The Bucs never recovered, although most fans forget that they actually weren't eliminated until they lost three of four to Cincinnati in their last series of the season after leaving Chicago.

The Pirates can take hope from the fate of other record streakers at the start in both leagues.

The 1955 Brooklyn Dodgers set the modern National League mark with 10 and went on to the pennant, and the only World Series victory ever won in Brooklyn.

The 1944 St. Louis Browns got off to a nine-straight start and won the only American flag ever to fly in St. Louis. They dropped the series to the Cardinals.

Ware Tops Field In Handicap Race

CHARLES TOWN, W. Va.—William B. Casleair's Ware, who returned to racing with a smashing win in last Saturday's Potomac Handicap, will try to make it two in a row at Shenandoah Downs tonight, facing seven rivals in the six-furlong Lefty Goldberg Memorial Handicap.

The race is named in honor of William (Lefty) Goldberg, who started Shenandoah Downs, but became ill before the track opened

Tanks And Troops Called Out As Battle For Power Is Mounting In Argentina

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Tanks and troops moved on Buenos Aires today for an apparent showdown for army leadership.

At least 15 tanks and 25 troops carriers rolled toward Buenos Aires from nearby Campo de Mayor where Gen. Enrique Rauch, commander of Argentina's cavalry corps, rebelled against the military leadership of army commander in chief Gen. Paul Poggi.

President Jose Maria Guido appointed Rauch secretary of the army early today and Rauch promptly fired Poggi. But Poggi declared he would not quit, and later high sources said Guido canceled Rauch's appointment under pressure from the Navy. A Guido spokesman denied this. Both Poggi and Rauch claimed the bulk of army support.

The armored column from Campo de Mayor paused in its march about 12 miles from the center of the city. The column was understood to be awaiting the outcome of conference's at Guido's presidential palace.

Guido summoned army generals to a conference as the two opposing factions appeared to be heading toward an armed clash.

Campo de Mayor is Argentina's largest military establishment. More than 12,000 troops and 150 Sherman tanks of an armored regiment are stationed there.

Friday night the garrison officers declared their opposition to the military chiefs who had been pressuring Guido to assume virtual dictatorial powers to suppress the resurgent followers of ex-dictator Juan D. Peron. The rebels said they were opposed to the Peronists, but that Guido should be allowed to deal with them through Congress, as he wanted.

Poggi's forces obviously controlled much of the city. But officers at Campo de Mayor asserted they were sticking with Rauch. Rauch set up temporary headquarters at the war school behind troops in a machine gun.

Troops apparently loyal to Poggi guarded the war secretariat and most of Buenos Aires.

The navy ordered its marine units ready for combat and its warships to sail for Buenos Aires, but held off taking sides immediately.

The Campo de Mayor rebels made plain that they opposed the Peronist whose sweeping election victories last month set off the current crisis. The rebels said that, like the armed forces chiefs, they also wanted to prevent the Peronists from taking office on schedule May 1, but they insisted this could be done "through legal means." The military chiefs had insisted Guido act by presidential decree.

The rebels also asserted that they oppose the return of President Arturo Frondizi. The armed forces deposed and imprisoned Frondizi last month because he had permitted the Peronists to run in the March 18 elections, their first legal political activity since the military toppled Peron in 1955.

POLICE QUELL ATHENS RIOTS

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — The government clamped strict security measures on Athens today after riot police used armored vehicles and tear gas to break up antigovernment riots that injured 80 persons.

Police, backed by an estimated 7,000 army reinforcements, battled thousands of demonstrators from sunset to midnight as street fighting swept across the city.

Premier Constantine Caramanlis' pro-Western government blamed the violence on leftist extremists and ordered army troops and riot police to patrol Athens streets. Nearby military units were put on alert.

The rioting erupted when police tried to prevent an overflow crowd from attending a protest rally called by Center Union leader George Papandreou in defiance of a government ban on mass gatherings.

Papandreou, whose antigovernment campaign has support from the left, called the rally to denounce results of last October's national election in which Caramanlis chalked up a landslide.

LEADS FIGHT AGAINST CITY TO SAVE TOWN

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Some people swear by the suburbs, but Jane Jacobs and her neighbors love their homes in the teeming city enough to fight City Hall for the right to stay there.

In 1946 Mrs. Jacobs, a writer, and her architect husband, Robert, moved upstairs over a defunct candy store in the crumbling community of West Village in this city and awaited the birth of their first child.

"We saw so many interesting things for youngsters — a welding shop, the cobbler's, a teamaker's, a pizza place, and all kinds of people in all kinds of situations in life," recalls the big boned large-featured woman with yellow-gray pixie haircut and horn-rimmed glasses.

Sixteen years and three children later Mrs. Jacobs is more certain than ever that West Village is one of the best spots in the world in which a family can grow. Moreover, she and her loyal neighbors have convinced the mayor that this is true.

It is no longer considered blighted. It is no longer in danger of being destroyed in the name of slum rehabilitation.

ELBOW GREASE

But there were 11 months of sleepless nights, fund-raising parades, court battles before West Village achieved this goal. Mrs. Jacobs led the fight, but the campaign to save the community was not her battle alone, she points out.

However, as an architectural editor for a national magazine, and as author of a recently published book, "Death and Life of Great Cities," Mrs. Jacobs had become an authority when West Village was designated for slum clearance. She was a natural as chairman of a survival committee.

"It's not chic. West Village never was. But all of us made up for the low rents with elbow grease," she says. "We couldn't let them tear this place down. It was a part of us."

Her neighbors are longshoremen, scientists, writers, truck drivers, artists, yes, and some beatniks. But they were all one in their fierce battle to save their homes. Each yawned on their jobs throughout the day and stayed up throughout the night contributing his particular talent to the common cause.

MIDNIGHT OIL

Printers made circulars. Artists, painted posters and signs. Housewives typed letters. Surveyors conducted classes for neighbors teaching them how to survey. Throughout the village the lights burned until dawn.

By daylight the mothers peddled books, made holiday wreaths, sold tickets to off-Broadway plays, and held penny sales. Altogether they raised $7,000 to carry their legal battles to upper courts, if necessary.

After school hours children distributed leaflets, solicited signatures for petitions, and baby-sat for younger children to relieve their mothers for other duties.

NEW COMMITTEE

Seven-times West Villagers by the hundreds took leave of their jobs and accompanied Mrs. Jacobs to the hearings in City Hall. The most dramatic of these lasted until 4 a.m.

Eighty-four neighbors, after months of study, presented decibel, soot and social statistics. They illustrated with graphs to show how their improvements to properties had brought about gradually rising taxes. Still, it took an appeal to the mayor to end the battle.

Recently nearly a thousand West Villagers and friends raised beer steins in their new Children's Center to toast their victory.

The neighbors also formed a new committee, "Improve West Village." Their chairman is a natural, Mrs. Jane Jacobs.

Officials Probe Workhouse Strike

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Superintendent Lawrence Keenan is investigating the short-lived hunger strike staged by prisoners at the Allegheny County Workhouse.

The strike, which began Thursday, ended Friday at breakfast and Keenan said, "From all observations, everything is back to normal." There was still no explanation for the hunger strike.

Keenan said one striker set a straw mattress on fire with a cigarette lighter and suffered burns of the hand and face. Keenan visited him Friday, but all the man would say was, "Oh, I just blew my top."

Keenan said prisoners he questioned refused to tell why they struck, but he overheard remarks about the food and lack of recreational facilities.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Sir:

I became acquainted with Ed Barbehenn soon after my folks moved to Stevens St. in 1903. One day he stopped and asked me to go along, said he had a job working in a woman's garden. As we walked along he said, "She is a humdinger, never smiles and is hard to please." Another time I went with him he said, "Now you will hear something. This woman is not a bit tongue-tied."

He was a familiar figure in Gettysburg. One would see him walking along the street with a nice, easy swing to his gait and usually had some garden tools on his shoulder.

His folks came to America from Germany about 1840 when a lot of those good and sturdy Germans came to this country. They were hard working people and because of that soon found work. He made work for himself by doing odd jobs for people. When they found out that he was willing to tackle most any kind of a job he soon had plenty of work. People would say, "See Ed Barbehenn, he will do it for you."

EMPLOYED BY COLLEGE

Then after doing such work for a number of years he got regular employment at the heating plant at the college and continued some of the old jobs, doing them in the evenings. One I remember— he came home at the end of the day, ate supper, then went to Mrs. Biocher's coal yard, which was across the railroad from the Western Maryland depot, and shovelled off a carload of coal for which he received one dollar. I was crossing the railroad that evening and saw him, went over and climbed up on the car and talked awhile; then went back to the house and got a bucket of drinking water for him.

I doubt if there is a man around today who could or would do a job like that. "They say that in his prime, ere the pruning-knife of time cut him down, not a better man was found by the crier on his round through the town."

TENDED FURNACES

"He also had a number of furnaces in the neighborhood which he tended. Before he went to the college in the morning he would take out the ashes and put in enough coal to last until evening. Then before he went to bed he made his rounds to bank the furnaces for the night."

BURIES DOG AT NIGHT

One night about 9 o'clock I met him with a shovel on his shoulder. He told me a woman wanted him to bury her dog and wanted it done after dark so no one would see where it was buried. The next day he told me it was a nice funeral—the dog was wrapped in a beautiful shroud. Then he laughed and told me that she gave him a dollar.

He always had a yard full of flowers and most everyone in Gettysburg remembers the flowers he gave to the school children to carry in the parade to the cemetery on Memorial Day.

Time finally took its toll and confined him to his room. Then after his sister died, two nieces moved in with him and they looked after him with utmost kindness. He had many visitors from all walks of life.

For several years I visited him once a week. On one visit he told me that a few days ago Rev. Lena Parr, the minister at the negro church on Washington St., and another negro lady came to visit him and they sang church hymns. "My, how they could sing. It surely was nice."

ALWAYS PLEASANT

When I visited him he was always in good humor and never complained. He always had a joke or story to tell about people who lived here in the last 50 years. Our conversation covered baseball, politics, the schools, religion, the college and Gettysburg in general.

He had a radio on the table by his chair and followed the news and baseball. He recalled the days of Eddie Plank and on the day he was pitching for the Athletics, the men up town would take up a collection to pay for the telegrams received every 15 minutes, then Bill Duncan would get them and stand on the curb and read them to the crowd. This I distinctly remember.

On the wall in his room he had stickers "Vote Republican" — "Nixon and Lodge." He would point to them and laugh. He was a genuine Republican. After the election last fall I asked him if he was going to take the stickers down. He said, "I was surprised." I told him "lots of people were."

Quite a while later he said, "I believe that fellow down there in Washington is going to do alright. Twice now I have heard him quote from the Bible."

FAVORITE TEACHER

In the summer when he was on the porch and the school children went by, many of them waved to him, and then he told me how wonderful the schools are today, and recalled the four years he had from 1885 to 1889 at the school on High St. Miss Allie Powers was his favorite teacher and taught a long time. Then one year the school board released her. It was a big surprise to her and the community. Soon after that she died. People said she died of a broken heart.

NAMES PRESIDENTS

He joined St. James Church as soon as he was old enough and could name all the ministers since that time. He read the church bulletin which comes out on Fridays and listened to the Sunday sermon over the radio.

Having worked at the college for 27 years the doings at the college were topics always discussed and he said he depended on me to keep him informed. Well that suited me for I can sit down and talk Gettysburg College to anyone.

HELD FOR MURDER

Schiller, a laborer, first told police his wife, Lillian, 26, had been injured in a fall at their home.

But after an autopsy revealed the woman was beaten, Schiller admitted hitting her with his fists, police said.

YORKERS SAFE ON SCHOONER LONG OVERDUE

NEW YORK (AP) — The "Black Panther," a 71-foot schooner five days overdue on a trip from Bermuda to New York, was located early today by a U.S. Navy vessel. All aboard—among them four skindivers from York, Pa.—were reported safe and the vessel required no assistance, the Coast Guard said.

A Coast Guard spokesman here said the Navy ship which was not identified, came upon the schooner at 1:45 a.m., EST, about halfway between Bermuda and New York. He said the schooner was proceeding on its planned trip.

It wasn't known exactly how many persons were aboard but the spokesman said "we have reason to believe it's eight."

Conflicting reports had placed the number from seven to nine. The schooner left Bermuda April 10 and was due in New York last Monday.

HAS NO ENGINE

There was no immediate indication as to the reason for the delay. The two-masted schooner has no engine, the spokesman said. He added it would be difficult to predict when it would arrive in New York, but pointed out it had taken 11 days to make half the distance.

The Coast Guard originally was alerted that the schooner was overdue by Wayne Ruppert, president of the York Skindiving Club in York, Pa.

Ruppert said three members of his club had flown to Bermuda earlier to help put the ship in shape, but they had declined to return on the craft because they felt it was not seaworthy.

Ruppert said he understood only seven persons were on board the schooner.

Mrs. Willie Sutton of Wood-Ridge, N.J., said there were nine. Mrs. Sutton said her daughter, Irene Jacobs, 30, of East Rutherford, N.J., wrote that she and eight others were making the trip.

Mrs. Sutton said Irene is engaged to James Johnson, 38, the boat owner, also reported aboard. She said Johnson has been living on a boat in Carlstadt, N.J., where he works as a burglar alarm repairman.

Says Army Should Rule On Walker

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., says it's up to the Army—not the Senate—to decide the case of Maj. Arch E. Roberts.

Stennis, who is chairman of the subcommittee investigating charges that military officers' anti-Communist speeches have been muzzled, said Friday his committee would take no action until the Army completed its inquiry.

"The basic question involved is whether Maj. Roberts violated military regulations by delivering his address without prior policy clearance as required by established procedures," said Stennis in a statement.

Roberts, who served under former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker and says he drafted Walker's controversial pro-blue troop indoctrination program, was suspended by the Army Thursday night shortly after he gave a speech without Pentagon clearance to the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Prisoners Riot When Gen. Salan Is Jailed

By JOSEPH E. DYNAN

PARIS (AP) — Ex-Gen. Raoul Salan, captured chief of the European Secret Army Organization, today faced a military trial and probable death sentence. His supporters in the Algerian terrorist campaign reeled under the impact of his arrest.

The secret army vowed to continue its desperate battle against Algerian independence, but many observers felt Salan's capture represented a crippling and possible death blow to the underground organization.

Salan, one of France's most decorated soldiers, was the great rallying symbol to several thousand European right-wingers and French army deserters. The extremists have been terrorizing Algerian Moslems in hopes of forcing Moslem retaliation that would prompt the government to call off plans for self-determination in Algeria.

was told his condition now is listed as between critical and serious.

Rescue crews were called to the scene following the accident and had to use crowbars to remove some of the injured. The transmission of one of the vehicles had to be cut by an electric torch before the car could be towed away.

DETROIT (AP) — Jesse G. Vincent, 32, an engine designer credited with developing the first V12 automotive engine and the engine used in World War II PT boats, died Friday, Vincent, a Charleston, Ark., native, held more than 400 engineering patents. He retired in 1948 after 33 years as vice president of the old Packard Corp.

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Enoch Brown, former president and general manager of the Memphis Publishing Co., died Friday after a long illness. The company publishes the Commercial Appeal and the Memphis Press-Scimitar. Brown, who was 69, joined the company in 1927.

Salan already had been sentenced to death in absentia. But under French law, the sentence will be set aside and he will be tried in person, probably within a few weeks. The charges will stem from the revolt and his secret army leadership.

Fire Causes $50,000 Damages To Church

BUTLER, Pa. (AP) — A fire believed to have been started by faulty wiring struck the Covenant United Presbyterian Church in downtown Butler Friday night, causing about $50,000 in damages.

No injuries were reported.

Fire Chief Joe Langland, who set damages, said the fire smoldered for about an hour before it was discovered. He said faulty wiring apparently started the blaze.

Firemen had the blaze extinguished within a half hour after setting up their hoses.

Teen-agers Should Learn About Charge Accounts Says Mrs. H. D. Tunison

By MRS. HELEN D. TUNISON
Extension Home Economist

Teen-age charge accounts present a challenge to parents and educators. Findings from a study of teen-age girls in Massachusetts indicate that most teen-agers know some, very little, or nothing about credit. Of the 52 girls interviewed in a Massachusetts trade school, 44 said they expected to use credit for purchases when they were earning their own money.

MRS. TUNISON

Parents and educators must meet the challenge and prepare teen-agers to meet their credit decisions.

Teen-agers should be taught the facts and principles of credit and learn how to apply these to different situations. They should know how to investigate and analyze what kind and how much credit they should use and how to compute the costs of various kinds of credit.

Teen-agers need to become acquainted with the commercial activities of their town and locality. Also they need to understand the purpose and operation of such agencies as the Better Business Bureau, credit bureaus and unions, stores, banks and finance companies.

DECORATING BAY WINDOWS

Bay windows aren't easy to curtain. But here a few tips that may put you on the path to a simple, effective bay window treatment.

First, decide what you want to do with the window. Ask yourself if you want to call attention to the window or make it fade into the background of your house.

If a large bay window has a good view and you plan to use the window as a point of interest, center your furniture grouping around it. Then choose draperies in a pattern that can set the color scheme for the room. Pick up the background color of the draperies in your wall colors and use the bright colors in the drapery pattern for accent in the room.

If your bay window has a view you'd like to shut out, you can still call attention to the lines of the window. Keep your draperies pulled and use them as a background for an interesting furniture arrangement.

ACHIEVE PRIVACY

If the lines of your bay window don't add interest to the room, and you want the window to attract little attention, treat it with sheer or cafe curtains in the color of the walls. That way, the bay window will blend into the background of the room and you'll have privacy.

Treat a bay window as one large unit rather than curtaining each window separately. Sometimes a valance or cornice board will help tie the area together. Usually a curved rod is fine for curtaining a bay window. You may hang the drapery from the wall or ceiling. And to give variety you may arrange it so it will pull from either one or two sides.

If strong sunlight beams into the room, you may want to soften it. If so, use double rods and hang sheer curtains under your draperies. But before installing sheer curtains, consider their cost and the care they'll need.

DORMER WINDOWS

Dormer windows in your house can be a challenge to redecorate. Their vertical shape and placement offers many decorating problems.

First decide whether you want to play down your dormer windows or highlight them. Then think of unusual treatments that will help make your dormer windows interesting. Depending on the placement of the windows, louvered shutters or Venetian blinds painted to match the wall color may be a good choice. Usually louvered shutters blend well with contemporary or colonial furnishings.

Bamboo and matchstick shades look well on many dormer windows and they're especially good because they let some light filter into the room even when they're drawn or rolled down. Bamboo and matchstick shades come in several colors so you may be able to match them to the wall color of your room. If not, paint the shades to suit your room.

Opaque shades and several types of plastic shades are easy to use on dormer windows. Shades can be cut to fit your window and may give the simple effect you want without further treatment, such as curtains.

If you decide to use curtains on your dormer windows, keep both the design of the curtains and the pattern of the fabric simple. Select curtains in a sheer or a textured fabric that matches the wall color. Often dormer windows are needed to let in light so plan to have curtains that are sheer enough for light to pass through.

And whatever type of window treatment you choose, be sure it looks well from the outside of your house. If you use louvered shutters, Venetian blinds, bamboo sticks or matchstick shades, you may need to paint one side of them a color that blends with your room and the other side a color that blends with the outside of your house.

Latrobe Steel Forecast Good

LATROBE, Pa. (AP)—President J. E. Workman of Latrobe Steel Co. forecasts a record sales volume and a major improvement in earnings for the firm this year.

He said Thursday at the company's annual meetings that January orders were at an all-time high.

Approximately $1 million will be spent by Latrobe for capital investment in 1962, including $300,000 for a fourth Vac Arch furnace expected to be in operation by July, Workman said.

Crows Earn Winter Keep

At least half of the Commonwealth's European corn borer population did not survive the winter.

Field checks conducted by the Bureau of Plant Industry, State Department of Agriculture, credit woodpeckers and crows with much of the pest destruction.

Over-wintering borers will soon change into the parent moth stage and eggs will be laid on early corn and, in some instances, on potatoes. Farmers are urged to rake and burn or completely plow under corn stalks and thick stemmed weeds as preventive steps in controlling borers.

A survey made last fall indicated that borers were not quite as abundant in Pennsylvania in 1961 as the previous year, but there was less reduction in the over-wintering population because of the heavy protective snows.

The extreme southern part of the state can have as many as two broods of borer infestation each year, with the second brood occurring in early August.

Producers of early sweet corn and other crops subject to damage by borers should consult with their county agricultural agent for proper insecticides to use for control.

HEAVY CROP OF ROSY APHIDS

Rosy aphids are hatching and are more abundant than in the last few years, County Agent Frank Zettle announced today in reminding fruit growers of the prepink and pink apple sprays to control apple scab, mildew, rust, aphids, mites, plant bugs and leaf-rollers.

European red mite eggs can be found in most orchards, he added, and are starting to hatch.

Recommended spray materials per 100 gallons are Guthion 25 per cent WP, at three-quarter pound for dilute sprays, 2 1/4 pounds for concentrate sprays, or Phosphamidon 49 per cent EM plus fungicide at one-third pint for dilute and one pint for concentrate sprays, and Captan 50 per cent WP at two pounds dilute and six pounds for concentrate sprays.

Peach spray letters were sent the growers at the same time, with Zettle noting that the pink and bloom sprays are very important to reduce brown rot blossom blight. Recommended chemicals per 100 gallons of spray are Dichloro 50 per cent WP (Phygon), one-half pound in dilute sprays, one pound in concentrate sprays, or Captan 50 per cent WP at two pounds for dilute or six pounds for concentrate sprays.

Soil tests made at the Pennsylvania State University show that less than one-fourth of manure value is being realized in many sections of Pennsylvania.

Dairy farms in northern and western Pennsylvania, that have been in operation well over 100 years, still show low and, in some cases, very low soil potash levels. This hardly seems possible because thousands of tons of manure, which is supposed to carry a lot of potash, has been applied to these fields for years. Theoretically, we should recover about 85 per cent of the potash fed to the animal, and 70 per cent of this potash will be in the liquid portion of the manure. In other words if the liquid is lost, much of the value of manure is lost.

MUCH WASHED AWAY

Most farmers haul manure directly from the barn to the field. Much of this manure is lost from washing away on steep hillsides. More is lost because the farmer doesn't use enough bedding.

The best way to store manure is under a shed roof, and tramp or pack it like silage, making sure it does not become dry. To realize the maximum value from manure it is recommended it be hauled to the fields and plowed down as soon as possible. This will not seem practical to most farmers, but, in the long run, it would be the most practical method of conserving this valuable farm by product.

ROT REDUCES PROFITS

Cattle foot rot needlessly cuts the profits of dairymen and livestock producers. Losses come from poor conditioning and secondary infections. Lower milk production and lower gains are results of foot rot. Foot rot can occur in any class of cattle. It tends to be seasonal, showing up in spring and fall, but may happen any time of the year and under almost all possible conditions.

First noticeable sign of the disease is pronounced lameness. Swelling may extend to the knee in the foreleg or to the hock in the hind leg. Eventually, the animal's temperature rises and it goes off feed.

Occurrence of the disorder can be reduced by providing cattle with clean, dry footing. The germ causing the disease needs mud or wet manure to grow in. Paved dairy yards and feedlots won't harbor these germs. Paved lots eliminate mud and can be cleaned regularly in any weather to prevent manure buildup. Concrete paving is most important around feed bunks and water tanks where cattle stand.

Another benefit of paving is that it keeps dairy cows cleaner and increases beef cattle gains. Paving will pay for itself as well as reduce the incidence of foot rot.

PICKING MACHINES

Which is the best mower? Best tractor? Which is the best of any farm machine?

Everyone is confronted with that question, but to answer which is best you need to have the word defined. When applied to a particular farm machine or machines, best should be interpreted as meaning "having the greatest number of desirable characteristics." These desirable characteristics of farm machines should be considered: Lowest initial investment, lowest cost of ownership, highest field capacity, highest field efficiency, least horsepower input requirement, highest potential capacity, highest functional performance, highest operational performance.

And don't forget to consider: Least harvesting loss, highest drying rate, least complicated maintenance, longest expected life, highest maneuverability, most convenient hitching, highest trade-in value, dealer service is nearby, and saves greatest amount of labor.

Certain desirable characteristics of a farm machine are more important than others, depending on an individual's sense of value. So, a machine that "possesses the greatest number of desirable characteristics that rate highest according to your values is the best machine for you!"

One-fourth Of Plant Food Value Of Manure Is Used By Crops Says Co. Agent

FRANK S. ZETTEL
Adams County Farm Agent

About a billion tons of farm manure is produced annually in the United States. The crop producing potential of this manure is considered to be about three billion dollars but much of this potential is not realized.

In fact, probably only one-fourth to one-third of the plant food value of manure is ever used by the crops.

Soil tests made at the Pennsylvania State University show that less than one-fourth of manure value is being realized in many sections of Pennsylvania.

Dairy farms in northern and western Pennsylvania, that have been in operation well over 100 years, still show low and, in some cases, very low soil potash levels. This hardly seems possible

Teachers In Six Colleges Sharing $180,000 Grant To Study China Or India

With reference to the six colleges, Gettysburg, Dickinson, Hood, Western Maryland, St. Joseph and Mt. St. Mary's who will share a two-year Ford Foundation grant of $180,000 for a cooperative program of faculty study in Asian countries, it was decided at the early stage of conferences that it would be impossible for undergraduate colleges such as these to try, individually, to compete with the non-Western area offerings of the large universities. However, taken together, these six colleges do represent large resources which, used cooperatively, are capable of making a major contribution. These six colleges represent some 5,500 students, 455 faculty members, and more than twelve and a half million dollars of endowment.

The committee decided that the role of these undergraduate colleges should be two-fold: To offer to each of their students the opportunity of making some contact with a civilization and culture other than their own; and to offer to those students who might be interested in a sufficient background so that they might be equipped to continue their studies on a graduate level.

18-MONTH STUDY

The proposal which was made to implement this, and which has now been accepted by The Ford Foundation, calls for an 18-month study of both China and India on the part of interested faculty members. These teachers will spend an initial summer reading in one of these cultures. During the following academic year they will be teaching only half time, and the remainder of their time will be spent preparing for some 12 seminars which will be led by a series of visiting experts. The following summer these faculty members will spend either at one of the major graduate centers in this country, or abroad. In this way a teacher will have an 18-month study of either China or India.

Each 18-month period of study will be under the direction of one of the outstanding experts in that culture. Gettysburg College has been appointed to act as the financial agent for the Foundation; and Dr. Norman Richardson, chairman of its philosophy department, has been elected as the

TO SHARE COST

The cost of the program is not being borne entirely by the Foundation. All of the colleges have been making preparations for it. Gettysburg College has had a number of speakers for both student and faculty during the past year. It has also been adding to its collection of books in the non-Western areas. Using its own funds as well as two grants from the Association of College and Research Libraries, which total $1,500, the library has been concentrating on books in Chinese and Indian cultures. Invaluable additions to this whole program are the Dr. Frank H. Kramer and John Hampshire collections of oriental art.

At the same time all of the colleges have been adding to their faculties teachers who have had training on non-Western areas. And, during the two years of this program the colleges will be contributing $73,000 of their own funds. The entire program is a cooperative one between the college, and between them and The Ford Foundation.

SEE EARLY GAIN

Exactly what will result from this program cannot be stated at this time. New possibilities will open up as it progresses. One gain, and a gain which will be almost immediately evident, will be that in many of the already established courses some dimensions of non-Western culture will be added; and students will begin to be confronted with some of those non-Western cultures which are so important in their world today. What new courses will be added will depend on the structures of each of the participating colleges. Students who are going into high school teaching will be much better prepared than they have been in the past to teach the now-required course in World Cultures required by the state of Pennsylvania. And the cooperation which will be worked out during this program of Asian studies will eventually work for the enrichment of the offerings of all of the six colleges which are participating in it.

New Orleans Seized; Citizens Signal Trouble

Butler's Troops Have Hands Full As Restive Populace Grumbles

NEW ORLEANS, La., April 29.—Capture of New Orleans was completed today with the landing of an 18,000-man occupation force commanded by Maj. Gen. Benjamin F. Butler.

The city's populace greeted the invaders sullenly. The defending force of 3,000 Southern troops commanded by Maj. Gen. Mansfield Lovell withdrew as Butler approached.

Arrival of Butler's forces followed by less than 24 hours the long-awaited surrender of Forts Jackson and St. Phillip, whose battered garrison mutinied yesterday and surrendered to Union sailors under command of Cmdr. David Porter.

Porter and a fleet of mortar boats had been left behind by Capt. David G. Farragut, who last week defeated the defending Southern fleet below the forts and hurled tons of heavy shot into the forts.

BUTLER'S force had no sooner entered the city than they learned their occupation role here would be a difficult one, to say the least.

Private citizens viewed their preliminary activities with a deafening silence. The mayor, John T. Monroe, had refused Farragut's request for an official surrender.

Most astonishing to the Union troops as they scattered throughout the city was the attitude of well-dressed, richly-turned out women who often taunted them and occasionally reddened the ears of the combat-scarred troops with original, pungent curses.

One of Farragut's first official actions met with open hostility.

He had ordered the Union flag raised over the U. S. mint here, which had been seized by Confederates after Ft. Sumter.

A crowd headed by William B. Mumford, a gambler, tore the flag down and ripped it to shreds, disdainfully tossing the remnants into city hall, where Farragut was trying to make peace with Mayor Monroe.

Police Seeking Highway Thieves

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Frank Odusch, St. Joseph County highway superintendent, has alerted police to be on the lookout for highway thieves.

But these aren't the kind who rob travelers—they're snatching the road itself.

The robbers have taken two freshly blacktopped sections of County Line Road in northwestern St. Joseph County.

"I wouldn't have believed it if I hadn't seen it with my own eyes," Odusch said. "They apparently scooped up the road and hauled it away in trucks. You could actually see the shovel marks."

The two sections—one 34 feet long and the other 18—were ripped up and hauled away at night with in hours after the roads had been resurfaced.

SAYS TRADING STAMPS MAKE LIFE CHANGE

NEW YORK (AP)—Lots of people collect stamps as a part-time hobby. For me, collecting stamps has become a full-time job—and a full-time headache.

I don't save plain old postage stamps. That's easy. My kind of collecting takes planning, energy, concentration, cunning, patience, strategy, footwork and time—mostly time.

You see, I collect trading stamps and all of a sudden it has become a way of life.

More and more stores are enticing me with sticky squares in all colors of the rainbow. Recently another nationwide grocery chain joined the battle, brandishing a plaid sword, and I surrendered meekly.

I'm a prisoner of the stamp war. Time was when I needed milk or bread or eggs I just trotted over to my friendly neighborhood grocer. He gave me the food and I gave him the money. It was a simple transaction which I remember with nostalgia.

These days, when I need groceries, I have to do some fancy figuring that would make a computer flash its tubes in admiration.

First, I study every ad and circular put out by all the stores in and out of the neighborhood.

If store A advertises butter at 74 cents a pound, but store B sells it for 79 cents a pound and throws in 20 stamps, logic tells me store C is the place to buy it because I can get 100 extra stamps by buying five dollars worth of stuff. And never mind what the price of butter is in store C nor how much gas it takes to get there.

Meanwhile, store D tempts me with the pledge that it will present me with 100 free stamps if I just turn up with a special coupon in my hand and a smile on my face.

Not only has my method of shopping changed, but so has my timing. No more theater matinees for me! Wednesday is double stamp day and I want to be right on hand when they pass out the bonus.

James Whitmore

"The Law And Mr. Jones" On TV

ON THE shoulders of two show business professionals — an actor and a producer—lies a heavy responsibility in a few months as summer television spreads throughout the land.

The men under fire are James Whitmore, a rugged, dedicated actor, and Sy Gomberg, a soft-spoken producer-writer with a ready grip on the public viewing pulse. They are the principals behind the ABC-TV production, "The Law And Mr. Jones," which is being hailed as the "Lazarus" of the television industry in that it was dead, but was restored to life.

gun was fired once. Jim Whitmore only used his hands to reach into his briefcase for a legal writ instead of using them to belt some guy in the eye."

That "The Law and Mr. Jones" depended on brains instead of brawn met with the approval of a fairly good share of the television viewers when it aired at 10:30 p.m. on Friday nights. It reached an average viewing audience of 18.6 per cent, as opposed to the violence-prone "Untouchables" which attracted 22.7 per cent of the viewers. The audience share was 38.5 per cent, below

To some critics this explanation meant simply that the ABC-TV brain-trusters wanted more shows depicting blood and gore or else were going to replace the series with inane family comedy-type shows in hopes of capturing the nonthink viewing audience.

TEAM IS FORMED

The majority of television critics on magazines and newspapers throughout the country heatedly protected the coup de grace to the series which attempted to show that the law—while difficult, complex and often in error—was the only way to deal with injustice

Boss and Girl Friday—James Whitmore portrays Lawyer "Abraham Lincoln Jones" and pretty Janet DeGore is his legal secretary in "The Law and Mr. Jones" ABC-TV series.

How this came about is one of the most unusual stories in television, an industry where the unusual is usually the usual. But it is a story worth telling because it reveals the decided influence television viewers can wield over the men behind the big desks in the executive suites of the video industry.

FAIRLY GOOD RATINGS

"The Law and Mr. Jones" got off to a fairly good ratings reception last year and detailed the legal adventures of a crusading lawyer named "Abraham Lincoln Jones"—James Whitmore—in his relentless fight to gain victory over injustice by proper judicial efforts.

"In other words," said Gomberg, who produced the series and wrote many episodes, "we were an off-beat show. There was no on-screen violence after our sixth segment. In 32 segments a

"The Flintstones," "77 Sunset Strip" and "Naked City," but considerably ahead of "The Rebel," "The Detectives" and "Hawaiian Eye."

BELIEVABLE CHARACTER

Whitmore was a believable character—as a lawyer he lost many cases to the prosecuting attorney. His associates on the show were also at home in their supporting roles—Janet DeGore as his intelligent, fresh-faced secretary, and Conlan Carter as his drawling, slow-moving Texas law student.

Then, without warning, the network imposed the death sentence on "The Law and Mr. Jones," with the explanation that the show was not reaching a satisfactory audience and that 1962 programming plans called for shows which would reach a greater audience mass on a "higher entertainment and informative level."

in our modern society.

But the powers that be had arbitrarily spoken and "The Law and Mr. Jones" was out. It was at this time that the never-say-die team of Gomberg and Whitmore went to work.

Whitmore, to keep his wife and three boys in groceries, did guest appearances on TV; Miss DeGore returned home to New York and seriously considered giving up acting for a more stabilizing career as a secretary; Carter, who had to support his wife, one child and a new arrival shortly, did a few TV guest shots, and even took a job as a carpenter.

DID NOT GIVE UP

But—even though the cards were stacked against them—the cast members and Gomberg did not give up hope. Whitmore, who had actually studied law at Yale, decided to take his case to the people. He contacted columnists and asked them to join in his crusade to get "Mr. Jones" back on the air. The members of the press were only too happy to oblige. Papers, weeklies and dailies, hammered out the message: This is one time you have to fight city hall—or else.

The giant ABC network watched Whitmore argue his case with mild amusement. Only one show, "Father Knows Best" had been returned to the air at the urging of irate viewers. Lightning, the network officials thought, never struck twice in TV land.

Within a matter of weeks, lightning bolts—all bearing official U. S. postage stamps—were blasting network executives out of their smugness.

400,000 PROTEST

"Approximately 400,000 persons wrote protest letters," smiled Sy Gomberg.

The result of the crusade is well known by now. "The Law and Mr. Jones" returned to ABC on Mr. Jones returned to ABC on April 19 in a new time slot, 9:30 p.m. on a new day, Thursday. And this is where Gomberg and Whitmore shoulder a fairly heavy responsibility.

Said Whitmore: "Our shows last year were good, some probably were excellent, because we believed in what we were doing. But we did not feel the tremendous public responsibility we have now. We knew 'Mr. Jones' was no average lawyer-type series. We did not stoop to gimmicks to prove our point or rely on sheer nonsense to entertain. Always we aimed at the truth and many times we were right on target."

Sy Gomberg cut in: "What Jim means is that if we were good last year, we now have to be excellent in the 13 new shows we do this season. We have to show the wonderful people that put us back on the air that we weren't a fluke; that their faith in us was justified."

Teen-ager Killed Following Chase

RED LION, Pa. (AP)—A speeding car, being pursued by Red Lion police, crashed into another car, then rammed a tree Friday night, killing one teenager and seriously injuring another.

Police identified the dead boy as Terry Brown, 18, of Brougeville R. 1, York County. Brown and Raymond Forwood, also 18, of Brougeville, were riding in the car being chased, officers said.

Forwood was taken to the York Hospital with lacerations of the face and skull, possible head injuries and a fractured rib.

Police were unable to say who was driving the car. The two youths were being chased for speeding, officers said.

Two occupants in the other car involved in the crash suffered minor injuries.

The accident occurred along Route 74, about one mile south of Red Lion.

JUDGE SETTLES DISPUTE IN HOME

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Judge David L. Ullman says a labor dispute that caused a walkout of 1,300 workers of Publicker Industries, Inc., was settled Friday in his home.

The dispute, over seniority rights, ended the workers Thursday and part of Friday.

The company is one of the world's largest producers of industrial alcohol.

Judge Ullman of Common Pleas Court said the issues were settled on a friendly basis after a conference with lawyers of both sides.

"Injunctions have been withdrawn," he said, "and there will be no reprisals or damage suits."

Any Questions?

Q: I have heard that George Maharis, star of "Route 66," will be out of the series for a while because of illness. Is that true?—Joyce V.

A: Yes. Maharis has a liver ailment which will keep him from taping new shows for about a month.

Q: Is Lassie a male or a female? — John D.

A: Although Lassie is supposed to be a female in the series, the dog currently playing the lead role is a male.

Q: Is the Barry Wood who produces the Telephone Hour the same person who used to sing on the "Hit Parade"? — Jan R.

A: Yes.

Q: Did George Montgomery ever play "The Lone Ranger" on TV? — Don G.

A: Although Montgomery portrayed the "Lone Ranger" in several movies, he was never the star of the TV version.

Q: We would like to have this question answered: Is it true that the Bullwinkle Show is going off the air? If so, when? — J. N. and S. B.

A: Yes, it is going off the air; probably, at the end of the season.
